

FRIDAY SEMINARS at the Everglades Research & Education Center

Light refreshments are offered at 10:45, seminars begin at 11:00, and generally conclude at noon, unless otherwise announced.

2016-2017

Dr. George Snyder, Distinguished Professor Emeritus of Soil and Water Science

Monitoring golf course greens for planning and evaluating cultivations

October 7, 2016

Postponed - To be rescheduled

Dr. Mark Ritenour, Associate Professor, Horticulture Department, Indian River REC

Delivering Top Quality Fresh Citrus Fruit Under Challenging Disease Pressures

November 4, 2016

Dr. Mabry McCray, Associate Scientist, Agronomy Department, Everglades REC

Sugarcane Yield Response to Elemental Sulfur and Potassium on Florida Organic Soils

December 2, 2016

Dr. Monica Elliott, Center Co-Director and Prof. of Plant Pathology, Fort Lauderdale REC

One Symptom, Ten Pathogens: Why Diagnosing Palm Diseases is So Difficult!

January 6, 2017

Dr. Rena Borkhataria, Research Assistant Professor, Wildlife Ecology, Everglades REC

The Conservation Case for Diversity in Natural Resource Management

February 3, 2017

Mr. Steve Sarley, Senior Engineer with the Everglades Regulation Bureau at SFWMD

Successful Best Management Practices Program to Reduce Phosphorus in Everglades Agricultural Area Discharges

March 3, 2017

Dr. Jianping Wang, Assistant Professor, Agronomy Department, University of Florida

Developing Genetic Markers Associated with Sugarcane Orange Rust Resistance

April 7, 2017

Dr. Roxanne Connelly, Professor, Florida Medical Entomology Lab - Vero Beach

Mosquito-borne diseases of importance in Florida

May 5, 2017